WATCH THE FIGHT ON THE VERY BIG SCREEN
Village Cinemas teams up with Foxtel and FOX SPORTS to screen highly anticipated Mayweather vs McGregor fight

Village Cinemas Australia, Foxtel and FOX SPORTS are working together to bring the highly anticipated Floyd Mayweather Jr. vs Conor McGregor fight to big screen cinemas, nationally.

What's being referred to as 'the fight of the century', the boxing match between Mayweather and McGregor will be broadcast live from the T-Mobile Arena in Las Vegas to Village Cinemas locations around Victoria. It will screen on Sunday 27 August from 11:00am.

Australian fans have the opportunity to get as close to the action as possible with tickets now available for purchase in both Traditional Cinemas, and Gold Class to view the event which will pit the best of boxing against the best of MMA in the ultimate showdown.

After being announced in June this year, the event is shaping as one of the biggest pay-per-view events in history as worldwide interest continues to grow after months of build-up to see who will claim the title of the greatest combat fighter.

Village Cinemas Alternate Content Manager, Sally Mason is pleased to be working with Foxtel to bring Australian boxing and MMA fans the one-of-a-kind experience.

"We're really excited to be able to bring Mayweather and McGregor supporters together in what's sure to be a competitive and exhilarating atmosphere.

"Sport is so loved in this country, and we look forward to continuing this partnership with Foxtel and FOX SPORTS to bring main sporting events to the Village Cinemas big screen." Mason said.
