Shaun the Sheep is flocking to Paradise Country!

Shaun the Sheep is embarking on an Australian adventure and he and his flock are set to spread their outrageous behaviour, sheepish shenanigans and panic in the pasture at Paradise Country.

Opening in December, Shaun the Sheep at Paradise Country will include an all new interactive water play zone, playground, stage show, tractor ride and interactive movie making cinema.

Paradise Country General Manager, Shane Phillips said the Shaun the Sheep is a wonderful fit for the park with both parties sharing an affinity for the farm lifestyle.

“Shaun the Sheep is such an iconic and well-known character with families and we are excited to welcome him and his flock to Paradise Country,” he said.

“A highlight of the new offerings will be the live Shearing Shed Stage Show where Shaun and his flock meet a new assortment of native Australian friends, Kora the Koala and Konal the cockatoo as they embark on an exciting adventure the whole family can enjoy.

“Guests can experience a full farm adventure with the new Tractor ride which will take them on a scenic tour of the park and encompassing the various Shaun the Sheep attractions and activities on offer including the The Pig’s Playground, interactive movie making cinema and more.

“The animal nursery will also undergo a Shaun the Sheep transformation and features an interactive water-play structure where guests can play and cool down with our farm animals.”

Ngaio Harding-Hill, Senior Manager Attractions & Live Experiences at Aardman commented:

“As Australia’s number one Farm Based Attraction, Paradise Country is the perfect home for Shaun the Sheep’s next attraction adventure. The new experience captures all the fun and frolics of the show in a real life adventure fans will adore.”
